The Dodge Ram truck is a great hardworking truck. Unfortunately it doesn't come from the factory with lockout hubs. Our hub conversion kits will allow you to increase fuel mileage and reduce excessive wear on driveshafts, differentials, and other driveline components. All our conversions use off the shelf bearings, races, and seals.

Another option is to use the MileMarker full-time conversion kit. It replaces your stock front hub but reuses many of the rest of the parts up front. That makes it easier to install and maintain because much of your parts are stock. The only drawback is that it still relies on the stock wheel bearings that aren't that strong.
